	Note Naming
Excellent	The student can name the note without any assistance from the teacher.
Good	The student can name the note with little assistance from the teacher. For example, “The note is a line note so it must be one of two notes.”
Fair	The student can name the note only with assistance from the teacher. For example, “The note is a line note so it must be B or G.”
Novice	The student cannot name the note even with assistance from the teacher. For example, “The note is a line note so it must be B or G. Ok. It is not B, so it must be _____. Let’s try again. We know that it is not B, so it must be _____.”
